Board delays OK

Pontoon residents voice objections to new trailer park

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Approval of a special use permit allowing a new mobile home park to move to the former Lake Side Mobile Home Park site was delayed after numerous objections were voiced at a Pontoon Beach Village Board meeting.

The matter will be reviewed at the next Village Board meeting or at a special board meeting if the developers can secure final engineering plans and other required documents.

Timothy Stormer and Mark Horter, the developers of the proposed facility who attended Tuesday's meeting, are planning to purchase the property and develop it as a 66-unit mobile home park.

The residents would own the mobile homes. None of the mobile homes may be older than five years.

The developers asked the Zoning Board of Appeals to correct the zoning of the property to MR-2, which was not recorded correctly in Madison County records. They also requested a special use permit to allow the development of the mobile home park.

The Zoning Board had approved the MR-2 zoning, but the granting of the special-use permit was held up for a required engineer report.

The Village Board voted to table the matter after hearing

Madison company fined $4,000 by Illinois EPA

Agency cites failure to follow state clean air standards

By Curtiss A. Hartley
Staff writer

Diamond Plating Company in Madison has agreed to pay a $4,000 fine to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for a violation of the state's clean air act.

The Attorney General's office filed an injunction in Madison County Circuit Court on Monday seeking the fine because the plant continued operation for a six month period without a valid permit.

The plant, located at #5 Caine Drive in Madison, runs a nickel and chrome plating facility. A permit issued by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency allows the plant to operate a wet scrubber keeping factory emissions within state standards.

According to court papers, the plant's permit expired Nov. 8, 1998, and the plant continued to operate without a permit until April 2, 1999.

The Illinois Pollution Control Board cited the plant on April 2 for potentially causing air pollution, failure to maintain the wet scrubber and failure to maintain service records on the scrubber.

The injunction filed Monday claims that, by continuing to operate without a valid permit, the plant was in violation of the state's clean air statutes.

Elizabeth Pitrolo, an Assistant Attorney General with the Environmental Bureau, said the company has cooperated fully since the oversight was discovered.

"They came in good faith to the Attorney General's office on the current case," she said. "They have, in fact, gotten the permit. So they have corrected to violation and agreed to pay the fine."

Pitrolo said Diamond Plating signed a consent order

Alleged threats prompt use of profiling policy

Balen declines comment; student may face expulsion

By Mike Heil
Staff writer

The Granite City School District adopted a profiling policy back in February that identifies potentially violent students.

The district will use it for the first time next week to determine what action, if any, should be taken against one student who threatened another.

Granite City School Superintendent Steve Balen would not comment on the case, saying it would "jeopardize our situation."

A group, consisting of a psychologist, social worker, school administrator and the district's resource officer, will use the list to assess whether the student is at risk to harm anyone by comparing it to information gathered from his or her available report cards, medical records and behavior reports.

After evaluating the information, the group will contact the student. The district is then required to ask the parents for their permission. If the parents refuse the request, the district can ask the courts for permission to speak to the student.

The group will then present their findings to the School Board, which could suspend or expel the student. Balen, however, said the board is more concerned with helping the student overcome his or her violent behavior, should

"We want to stop violence in our schools, but we want to do it in a way that potentially violent students can get the guidance they need."

Steve Balen

Superintendent

there be one, through counseling or other means than by following through with any type of punishment.

"We want to stop violence in our schools, but we want to do it in a way that potentially violent students can get the guidance they need," Balen said when the policy was adopted in February.

According to Balen, the district almost used the profile list twice in the spring and once this fall. Because the Granite City Police Department and the students' parents took swift action, the district did not follow through with the profiles.

Recently, Balen and former FBI agent Clint Van Zant spoke on a local television station during a news segment about profiling.

Van Zant told Balen that the district's profile list is a scaled-down version of the FBI's profiling list.

Firefighters learn new techniques

Two-day clinic teaches updated extrication methods

By Alene Hill
Correspondent

More than 30 firefighters from area departments spent the weekend at Collinsville Fireman's Hall parking lot learning about techniques and the latest equipment for extrication, or removing crash victims from their vehicles.

"This will give firemen the opportunity to take cars apart using equipment they may have never used before," Duane Bales, a captain for the Collinsville Fire Department and a field staff instructor for the University of Illinois, said.

"They also learn new ideas and techniques for getting people out of the vehicle safely and looking out for the safety of the rescue personnel."

Bales, a Collinsville firefighter for 24 years and a field instructor for 10 years, said the course was a rare opportunity for both the full-time and volunteer firefighters who attended.

"Illinois has one of the highest-rated extrication programs in the country," Bales said. "Very few states, maybe a half-dozen, offer comprehensive training that is available to Illinois firefighters. Other states come to observe what we do."

LI John Nichols of the Collinsville Fire Department went through extrication training four years ago. He supervised a team of firefighters who began working on a car by removing the windshield.

"I'm here to watch and learn, too," Nichols said, instructing firefighters taking apart a 1989 Sonata to pull the windshield out and away from any victims who might have been trapped inside the car.

"Each wreck is different, and with any type of rescue, you have to know how it has to be done."

Jeremy Johns, a Venice firefighter who joined the force about five months ago, watched as firefighters used equipment to snap the hinges off an old Dodge Aries.

"I have a lot to learn," Johns said. "Most of the participants have done this for awhile, and you have to know how to do it."

Tom Findlow has been a firefighter for two years in Holiday Shores. "There are so many different scenarios," he said.

For more photos from this event, see today's People.

Elvis jumpsuits prove worth as teaching tool

By Kurt Erickson

The Illinois State Board of Education spent the past couple of weeks preparing us for a bombshell. Kids who took a new statewide assessment test last year did poorly.

But, in an address to the state last week, Glenn "Max" McGee, state school superintendent, said the public should not get too uptight about it.

You see, over the past several years, the state has spent millions of dollars developing a comprehensive set of "learning standards" and a tough new testing regimen that will help every child be better prepared for the workplace in the new millennium.

If this multimillion-dollar exercise works out as planned, our kids will most likely come out of school looking as glossy as the cover on the book that holds the standards.

Of course, said McGee, the test scores are going to look a little ugly for a while until kids get up to speed.

That's their theory. When it comes to getting kids interested in learning, however, we've got one of our own. It has little to do with so-called "learning standards" being handed down by policy wonks in Springfield and everything to do with teachers and principals who interact with kids every day.

As you might expect, our theoretical model is based on a series of highly technical and thoroughly documented case studies. Here are just a few examples.

• During the 1990-99 school year, Jim Beyer, principal of Hopedale Elementary School in Tazewell County, challenged second-graders participating in the school's accelerated reading program to read 1,500 books before the end of the year. Knowing they'd get to shave Mr. Beyer's head if they met the goal, they read 1,700 and scored 90 percent on follow-up tests.

• In 1995, when Kurt Swearingin was principal of Brigham Elementary School in Normal, students successfully completed a similar reading challenge knowing that if they did, Swearingin would be forced to do his best Elvis Presley impression. On April 17, 1995, there he was, doing a bang-up rendition of "Blue Suede Shoes" in front of the students.

• A year later at Chatsworth Elementary School in Livingston County, Blaise DeMuth, principal, was transformed into the King of Rock 'n' Roll after students beat his challenge by reading more than 200,000 pages during a two-week challenge. Thank you, thank you very much.

• In November 1998, administrators in Chenoa, later rode a bike from classroom to classroom and then took a seat on the school roof after kids surpassed their reading goal challenge.

• That same November, Aaissa Frazier, principal of Heyworth Elementary School, rode a bike from classroom to classroom and then took a seat on the school roof after kids surpassed their reading goal challenge.

Though we haven't employed any high-priced consultants to track the long-term success of these models, we're guessing that most of the urchins who witnessed the odd behavior of their principals remember it fondly.

With this irrefutable proof of success in hand, we called over to the state board of education to see if we had a statewide reading improvement theory worth investigating.

Rather than spend millions on new standards and new tests, we asked if it wouldn't have been the state merely converted an extra closet in one of their Springfield office buildings to serve as a lending library for various reading-improvement props.

By merely calling a handy toll-free number, principals could order whatever they need to make themselves look like fools in the name of upping reading scores.

It could be stocked with a couple of Elvis jumpsuits circa 1972, a dozen ladders for principals to use to climb on schoolhouse roofs; four sets of hair clippers; and, of course, a herd of pigs, to be used by agriculturally minded principals for kissing-if students meet their reading goals. (Note: This would be a welcome new market for farmers suffering under the current harsh economic times.) Total price tag: $2,459 (based on current hog prices).

We suggested our theory could even make money. Illinois State University's teaching college could schedule classes for principals needing tips.

The graduate level course could be titled "Hambone 401."

The response, however, was somewhat tepid. Our ideas weren't completely dismissed, but the gut response from the state board was that our idea was somehow flawed, something about being too simplistic.

Okay, so maybe doing a hula dance for the kids isn't rocket science.

Let's just hope our principals don't figure that out before they lay down this year's reading challenge.

Self control is key to helping children stop themselves from interrupting

Have you ever found it difficult to complete a sentence because your young child constantly interrupts? Little kids are natural interrupters. Even polite, sticker-winning children interrupt. They just don't seem to care. Or at least that's how it can feel when you're trying to have a conversation with another adult. In fact, most kids do care. They want to please you. It's just that learning not to interrupt isn't easy.

They have to learn though, don't they? Everyone wants their children to grow up to be thoughtful of others. Besides, most parents get a little nostalgic for the days when they could actually finish a sentence. It's clear that helping kids learn not to interrupt is important, but how do you go about it? It's helpful to think about why they do it.

Children interrupt because they aren't adults yet. They simply can't hold back the way adults can. Waiting patiently for a turn to speak takes a tremendous amount of self-control—something that emerges slowly. Children can learn not to interrupt but they can't learn it all in one day or one week, or even in one year. As self-control grows, interruptions diminish.

Children can't see and touch conversations. Children are better at understanding things they can see and touch. They may wonder, "How do I know when it's my turn?" Does "Don't interrupt" mean I shouldn't tell adults what I'm excited about?

When children are learning about something as abstract as how to join a conversation, they're bound to make lots of mistakes.

Sometimes playing a conversation game with your child makes things clearer. Rolling a ball back and forth, and talking only when it's in your hands, can help your child see a small part of how a conversation works. Keep in mind your child's ability to understand when you set your expectations.

Children need to know why. Waiting to speak is based on realizing that other people have a need and a right to have their ideas listened to. Adults understand that. Children, however, need an explanation. Expect to explain more than once. Lots more.

Children take in concepts a little bit at a time. Sometimes you'll give a quiet explanation right on the spot when your child interrupts. Other times you'll go over things later when you're alone together.

(Embarrassing a child in front of others makes it hard for him to listen.) Give your child simple reasons for not interrupting.

Children sometimes interrupt because they've been interrupted. It's true that kids repeat themselves. It's true that you often know what they're going to say before they say it. It's true that some days they just jabber endlessly.

But isn't your best friend sometimes like that too? To a parent, cutting off a child's meaningless chatter may not seem like much of an interruption, but it is to your child. It teaches children how to interrupt others.

Waiting for your child to finish speaking helps teach her to do the same.

Some days your child's constant interruptions can seem relentless. When they do, check to see what else may be going on.

Children are more likely to interrupt when they're overtired, wound up or feeling lonely. Often the best solution is a few minutes of being close. Offer your lap. Stretch out on the couch with your child. Sit together in a big chair. In other words, enjoy some uninterrupted time with your little interrupter!

Churchich: County's SWAP program keeps getting better

By Sanford J. Schmidt
Staff writer

MADISON COUNTY

The Madison
County
SWAP

program just keeps getting better, Sheriff Bob Churchich said.

"I'm happy to report the program continues to be very productive and worthwhile."

The program, known as

Sheriff's Work Alternative Program, under director Norman L. Nilsson, has been more productive each year for the past seven years it has been in existence, Churchich said.

"It started as a grant program, but it's so good, the county picked up the expenses," he said.

For the first eight months of 1999, more than $93,880 in labor has been provided to communities and not-for-profit groups by SWAP, compared with $80,880 for the same period in 1998, Churchich said.

Inmates in the SWAP program have completed 182 projects through August of this year, compared with 140 for the same period last year.

The program allows inmates to serve their time by participating in the work program in various communities in the county.

Three Granite City police officers receive promotions to new ranks

Ruebhausen cites work records in making announcement

By Mike Heil
Staff writer

Three officers from the Granite City Police Department have been promoted.

The three were recognized during a recent Granite City Council meeting.

"They are fine officers who have outstanding work records and will serve the department admirably," Granite City Police Chief Dave Ruebhausen said.

Police Officer Jeff Connor has been promoted from sergeant to lieutenant. Connor, a 1980 graduate of Granite City South High School, has been a member of the Granite City Police Department since 1986. He was a detective from 1989 to 1996. In July 1996, he was promoted to sergeant.

Connor and his wife, Elizabeth, have a son, Adam, and two daughters, Hannah, 7, and Rachel, 11.

Police Officer Ray Takmajian has been promoted from patrolman to sergeant. Takmajian, a 1983 graduate of Granite City North High School, was an officer with the Venice Police Department until 1988.

Takmajian has been an officer with the Granite City Police Department since April 1989, serving as a detective from 1994 to 1999. Takmajian and his wife, Gina, have a son, Blake.

Police Officer Rich Schardan has been promoted from lieutenant to captain. Schardan, a 1970 graduate of Granite City Senior High School, has been a member of the Granite City Police Department since 1976.

He served as a detective from 1986 to 1988, as a sergeant from 1988 to 1993 and as a lieutenant from 1993 to 1999. He is now captain of the patrol division.

Schardan has two sons, Rich Schardan Jr. and Geoffrey, 14.

Park District taking trip for Cards spring training

Due to many requests, the Granite City Park District is organizing a group trip to southern Florida next year to witness baseball spring training sessions as well as visit other popular tourist attractions.

The trip is set for March 7 through March 17. Nineteen meals are included in the trip and lodging has been arranged in Montgomery, Ala.; Gainesville, Fla.; Marietta, Ga.; St. Augustine, Fla., and the Jupiter/West Palm Beach, Fla. area.

The group will spend five nights in the Jupiter location, which is close to Roger Dean Stadium and the complex.

where the St. Louis Cardinals and Montreal Expos conduct spring training. Tickets have been obtained for three baseball games.

Visits to Kennedy Space Center, the West Palm Beach area, the Indian River Fruit Grove, a pecan farm in Georgia and the St. Augustine area are items also on the trip's agenda. A more detailed list of events will be announced at a later date.

The reason for the early announcement of the trip is that the cost of $897 per person, for double occupancy only, can be made in three installments.

The first payment of $250 each must be received at 8 a.m. Oct. 5 at the Wilson Park Ice Rink. This is also the date of the sign-up for a scheduled overnight trip to Wisconsin. The second installment of $250 is due on Dec. 7. The last payment of the trip is $397 and is due on Jan. 25.

To make the trip a go, the Park District needs 40.

Alcohol-related traffic deaths in Illinois increase during 1998

Despite hike, police still support .08 drunk-driving limit

By Steve Whitworth
Staff writer

More people died in alcohol-related traffic crashes in Illinois last year than in 1997, despite the state's stricter standard for drunken driving and increased enforcement of the DUI law.

But officials with the Illinois State Police say they still support the tougher standard that makes it a crime to drive with a blood-alcohol content of 0.08 percent or more. Last year was the first full year that state law made 0.08 the threshold for the DUI charge. Previously, a blood-alcohol content of 0.10 percent was needed to prove intoxication.

The Illinois Department of Transportation compiled figures that showed there were 472 alcohol-related highway deaths around the state in 1998, a 8 percent increase over the 437 drinking-related traffic fatalities in 1997. The number of alcohol-related fatal crashes remained about the same with 408 in 1998 compared to 404 in 1997, reports show.

Illinois Power, AmerenUE set usage records in July

By Kerry Smith
Staff writer

The 10-day heat wave in late July spurred record power usage by Metro East residents, two major utility companies said.

Both Illinois Power and AmerenUE reported all-time records in terms of megawatts from July 21-30. A megawatt is equivalent to one million watts.

On July 21, Illinois Power's residential customers collectively broke previous usage records and used 4,413 megawatts compared to a previous summer electricity usage high of 4,060 megawatts, spokesman Mike Monahan said.

"There are generally two electricity usage peaks during any given year," said Monahan. "One is during the hottest day of summer, when people turn on the air conditioning and keep it on all summer. The other is usually the coldest day of winter."

Monahan said peak times are measured between 4 and 6 p.m., when residents typically use more power as they turn the thermostat down after returning from a day at work.

more than a dozen area residents object to the development. Residents speaking against the development cited concerns about flooding, overcrowding in the area and traffic congestion along Lake Drive and Rapp Road.

Pam McGowan, who owns property in the 5000 block of Lakeview Drive adjoining the development, said, "When we get rain, it raises (the level of Long Lake) in three hours, where it used to take three days. If you build, it will flood my property."

The village has been cleaning up the previous mobile home park location for several years.

That particular mobile home park was developed more than 20 years ago, when standards for those types of developments were more flexible and, at times, non-existent. The park had deteriorated considerably by the 1990s. However, there was little the village could do to force improvements.

In 1996, the village allowed the property to be purchased by St. Louis developer Ken Kropf, with the understanding that he would improve and expand the park - including removing and replacing all the existing mobile homes and meeting present-day building codes.

However, by May 1998, nothing had been done and the park was in danger of losing its operating license, according to the Illinois Department of Public Health.

admitting to the oversight, and took appropriate steps to deal with the matter.

Diamond Plating has 30 days to pay the $4,000 fine to the state after a Madison County Judge signs the consent order.

Pitro said that if the company avoids another violation for five years, the case will be negated, as if it never happened.

Diamond Plating is currently paying off a $12,000 fine for another case filed in 1994. The court documents indicate that from May 11, to May 13, 1994, the IEPA received numerous complaints about damage to the surface of vehicles parked near the plant.

IEPA inspectors found chromium and nickel elements in samples taken from the site. At that time, Diamond Plating admitted to the discharge of contaminants on or about May 11, 1994, and agreed to pay the $12,000.

Officials at Diamond Plating were not available for comment.

Scott weather squad forms organization

The 15th Operational Weather Squadron at Scott Air Force Base in Belleville has announced the activation of the Scott Women of Weather Organization.

The purpose of WOW is to engage in support, fundraising, social and community service activities intended to provide a nurturing military family experience.

WOW, a non-profit organization, welcomes and encourages membership of all active and retired military members and spouses of the 15th Operational Weather Squadron, as well as other base weather organizations.

Headed by Christine Wirsing, this new organization has established a monthly newsletter and held its first fund-raiser, a rummage sale held Saturday in O'Fallon.

To join this organization or for more information, call Wirsing at 624-7052 or Patricia Berchoff at 632-3211.

Maer hosting Koch fund-raiser

Granite Citian now CBS Radio White House reporter

By Mike Heli
Staff writer

He is a three-time winner of the coveted Merriam Smith Award for "Presidential Coverage Under Pressure" and is a graduate of Granite City Senior High School.

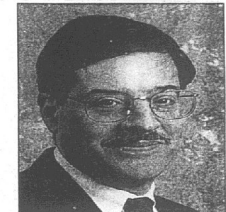

The hometown boy who went on to fame in Washington is Peter Maer, CBS Radio

News White House correspondent.

Maer will host the third De La Roche Gala Oct. 23 at the Chase Park Plaza in St. Louis' Central West End to raise funds for Koch Family Health Center at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The gala will include a dinner, dance and auction and music by Bob Coleman's Legacy Big Band. For more information, contact Rosemarie Brown at Van Arch and Associates at 451-0502.

Maer, who was born at the medical center and is the son of local optometrist Stanley Maer, began his broadcast career with a weekly high school news program on Chuck Norman-owned radio station WGNU-AM in Granite City before he went on to work at stations in Belleville and St.

PETER MAER

Louis.

In 1996, he began covering White House news for the old Mutual and NBC radio networks before those two networks were purchased by Westwood One radio. His reports are currently heard on several local stations, including KMOX-AM, on the CBS and Westwood One radio networks.

In his 13 years of White House coverage, Maer has traveled to more than 30 countries and throughout the United States with presidents Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan, George Bush and Bill Clinton and has been honored for his coverage on Bush and Clinton.

At the Chase, he will be part of an entourage of people who will honor U.S. 12th District Rep. Jerry Costello (D-Belleville) and Melvin Williams of Granite City, who has supported many community initiatives and programs.

The proceeds from the gala will enable health care professionals at the family health center to immunize area youths and treat them and adults for health-related needs. More than half of those treated last year were children.

Proceeds from a silent auction will include a variety of donated artwork from individuals in Collinsville, Edwardsville and Granite City and will also benefit the family health center.

Holy Family Parish Prepares Mission 2000 for the New Millennium

Joining with Christians all over the world Holy Family Parish will begin its celebration of the coming of the new millennium with four special evenings of prayer, reflection and sharing. A special Mission 2000 has been planned to initiate this three-year process called RENEW 2000 as a way to begin the worldwide celebration of the 2000 year since the birth of Christ. The Mission will be held on four consecutive evenings, Sunday, 9/19 through Wednesday, 9/22, from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in Holy Family's Church, located at 2606 Washington Ave., in Granite City. Following each session there will be time to gather for refreshments and an opportunity for sharing and meeting new friends.

Mission 2000 will focus on critical questions of spiritual meaning in our lives and world today, as well as ways in which we are challenged to rediscover that which is sacred. Particular attention will be given to strengthening family life and encouraging supportive relationships. There will also be an exploration of the need we have as individuals and as a world for reconciliation in our lives. The mission will offer a sacred moment to reflect upon and participate in a spiritual journey that moves us into the next century.

The topics for each evening are as follows: Sunday, 9/19 - "Search for Meaning-Rediscovering God"; Monday, 9/20 - "In Search of Meaningful Relationships-Reconciling Our Differences"; Tuesday, 9/21 - "Strengthening Family Life and Supportive Relationships - Making a Difference in the Lives of Tomorrow's Children"; and Wednesday, 9/22 - "Community for the 21st Century-Building a New World".

Anyone interested is most welcome to attend any or all of the sessions. For further information, contact the Parish office at 452-8244.

16th Collinsville ItalianFest ready to begin

Weather should be excellent, organizers say; 150,000 people will attend

By Val McDowell
Staff writer

Weather conditions Friday and Saturday will be perfect for the 16th ItalianFest in downtown Collinsville. The National Weather Service indicates the skies will be partly sunny with light winds and temperatures in the 70s.

Festival organizers are prepared for a large crowd for the event, which runs from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. both Friday and Saturday.

Most of Main Street will be closed as festivalgoers gather throughout the day to enjoy a wide variety of foods and activities.

Collinsville Unit 10 schools will be closed as well, but Collinsville School Superintendent Tom Fegley said the closings are because of a previously scheduled in-service day for teachers.

Getting to the fair will not be a problem, Jo Ann Prusa, one of two general chairs for this year's festival, said.

"There's a free shuttle bus supplied by Madison County Transit that runs from North Junior High School to downtown about every 15 minutes," Prusa said.

Prusa said the committees are on top of things. "Things are going great. We're looking forward to great weather and hoping for a great Fest," Prusa said.

Wednesday night, fair organizers marked the streets for vendor set-ups, and tonight, tent and electrical provisions for vendors will be completed.

Opening ceremonies, featuring the Collinsville High School Choir begin at 10:45 a.m. Friday. Saturday's agenda begins with a 5-kilometer (3.1 mile) run for the athlete in everyone.

Other highlights of this weekend's events include entertainment by popular St. Louis musical group Sh-Boom; a Patsy Cline-like performance by Lavern Oatman, a Unit 10 grade school teacher; and the traditional Grape Stomp.

Italian food galore, crafters and bocce ball are other features of this weekend's party. Plenty of souvenirs will be available for purchase.

A 100-unit parade is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. Saturday at Main and Clay streets. The parade will pay tribute to the 20th century.

An estimated 150,000 people

Madison County Felonies

The following felonies were recently filed in the Third Circuit Court in Madison County.

Matthew Swanson, 19, was charged with offenses relating to a motor vehicle incident on March 22 by the Glen Carbon Police Department.

Swanson was allegedly in possession of a driver's side door from a silver Ford Probe, knowing it to have been stolen or converted. His bond was set at $340,000.

Earl Bradley Flowers, 37, was charged with burglary for an incident on Sept. 1 by the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Flowers allegedly entered a 1994 Ford Ranger with the intent to commit theft. His bond was set at $100,000.

Tracey V. Vickers, 34, was charged with offenses relating to a motor vehicle incident on Sept. 2 by the Metro East Auto Theft Task Force.

Vickers allegedly possessed a 1999 KIA Spangue, knowing it to have been stolen or converted. His bond was set at $40,000.

Danny M. Sale, 27, was charged with driving while his license was revoked for an incident on Sept. 3 by the Collinsville Police Department.

Sale allegedly was driving a 1988 Ford on Collinsville Road in Collinsville while his license was revoked from a previous conviction, based on a DUI conviction in July 1996. His bond was set at $10,000.

William B. Wright, 32, was charged with offenses relating to a motor vehicle for an incident on Sept. 2 by the Granite City Police Department.

Wright allegedly possessed a 1986 Dodge van, knowing it to have been stolen or converted. His bond was set at $75,000.

Timothy J. Holt, 20, was charged with theft under $300 (second subsequent offense) for an incident on Feb. 3 by the Collinsville Police Department.

Holt allegedly took a head cleaner case from Vantaggio Video, 1960 Vandellia in Collinsville. His bond was set at $25,000.

Gerald V. Capriglione, 47, was charged with burglary for an incident on July 13 by the Collinsville Police Department.

Capriglione allegedly entered the Scotch Wash Laundry at 344 Vandellia in Collinsville with the intent to commit theft. His bond was set at $40,000.

Charles L. Coates, 29, was indicted on two separate charges by a Madison County Grand Jury on Sept. 2. Coates was indicted on a new charge of robbery and one charge of offenses relating to a motor vehicle for an incident on Aug. 3.

Coates allegedly took $276 cash from a victim and possessed a 1987 Ford Arsonist van, knowing it to have been stolen or converted.

Samuel L. Brown, 39, was indicted by a Madison County Grand Jury on Sept. 2 on a charge of retail theft under $300 (second subsequent offense) for an incident on Aug. 6.

Brown allegedly took clothing items from the Big K store, 2120 Troy Road in Edwardsville, having a previous conviction for residential burglary from July, 1995.

Kimberly D. Ardison, a/k/a Kimberly D. Howerton, 37, was indicted Sept. 2, by a Madison County Grand Jury on a charge of aggravated DUI for an incident on Aug. 9.

Ardison allegedly drove a 1999 Ford Mustang on Lebanon Road in Madison County with an alcohol content of .08 or more, having previous convictions of driving under the influence of alcohol on Feb. 4, 1982, and Feb. 10, 1987.

James D. Yount, 31, was charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance for an incident on June 2 by the Granite City Police Department.

Yount allegedly possessed less than 200 grams of a substance containing alprazolam. His bond was set at $10,000.

Alexis Ruth Brown, 42, was charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance for an incident on May 24 by the Granite City Police Department.

Brown allegedly had less than 50 grams of a substance containing methamphetamine. Her bond was set at $10,000.

Warriors shut out CBC

well. He defended well, he gave us some height and some speed back there.

"His overall game, but especially defensively, was very good, and we needed that. We have been having trouble getting an additional back and especially in this kind of game, the spot he had to play, out on the wing, was really important. I thought Josh did really make a strong contribution."

Baker said several other players stepped up in the contest as well.

"(Jeremy) Hickam and McMillan were great," Baker said. "I thought Mike (Smith) played with a great deal of heart. Richie Edwards was injured and played, did all kinds of things for us all the way. (Chad) Bridgeman marked (Kevin) Hudson right out of the game. And Justin Roehr was awesome. That's what we were looking for."

The Warriors travel to Edwardsville tonight for a conference game.

"The only problem for us is that we are going to be tired for Thursday's game," Baker said. "Our key is can we physically regroup to play the game there."

■ Weekly rankings by NASCAR This Week writer Monte Dutton. Last week's ranking is in parentheses.

1. (2) Dale Jarrett	Back on track
2. (1) Jeff Burton	Loudon may be his best track
3. (5) Bobby Labonte	Gave Coach Gibbs a sweep
4. (6) Tony Stewart	Now he's done it all
5. (3) Mark Martin	Lost sight of Jarrett
6. (4) Jeff Gordon	No title this year
7. (8) Dale Earnhardt	Fine second half
8. (9) Rusty Wallace	One win is not enough
9. (—) Sterling Marlin	Fourth on a short track
10. (—) Mike Skinner	Second pole

FROM LAST WEEK

WINSTON CUP SERIES
Tony Stewart became the first rookie to win a Winston Cup race in 12 years with a positively dominant performance at Richmond's Exide 400. The 28-year-old from Columbus, Ind., led 333 out of 400 laps, including the final 144. He became the first rookie to score on a short track since Morgan Shepherd won at Martinsville in 1981.

BUSCH GRAND NATIONAL
In perhaps his finest performance, Dale Earnhardt Jr.

outdueled Winston Cup regulars Mark Martin and Jimmy Spencer to win for the sixth time this season and push his point lead over Matt Kenseth back to over 100. He successfully defended his 1998 victory in Richmond's Autolite 250.

CRAFTSMAN TRUCK SERIES
Who's the biggest winner in NASCAR? At least among the three top touring series, it's Ford driver Greg Biffle, who won for the eighth time at Richmond in the Virginia Is For Lovers 200.

1999 WINSTON CUP SCHEDULE

Sept. 19	New Hampshire International Speedway	Loudon, N.H.
Sept. 26	Dover Downs International Speedway	Dover, Del.

Oct. 17	Talladega Superspeedway	Talladega, Ala.
Oct. 24	North Carolina Speedway	Rockingham, N.C.
Nov. 7	Phoenix International Raceway	Avondale, Ariz.
Nov. 14	Miami-Dade Homestead Motorsports Complex	Homestead, Fla.
Nov. 21	Atlanta Motor Speedway	Hampton, Ga.

FEUD OF THE WEEK

Jeff Burton vs. Ward Burton

During Busch Grand National practice at Richmond, the two brothers collided. Afterward, Ward accused Jeff while the younger brother was still in his car, and the two had a rather loud, and apparently loud, man-to-man session behind closed doors.

NASCAR This Week's Monte Dutton gives his opinion: "As anyone who grew up in a large family knows, brothers do not always get along. Ward and Jeff have clashed before, on the weekly short tracks. In the Busch Series and in Winston Cup. But the fact that they are brothers will probably prevent this little feud from lasting long or from having any on-track consequences."

ON THE SCHEDULE

WINSTON CUP SERIES

Coming up: New Hampshire 300
Where: New Hampshire International Speedway, Loudon, N.H. (1.058-mile track), 300 laps/
317.4 miles

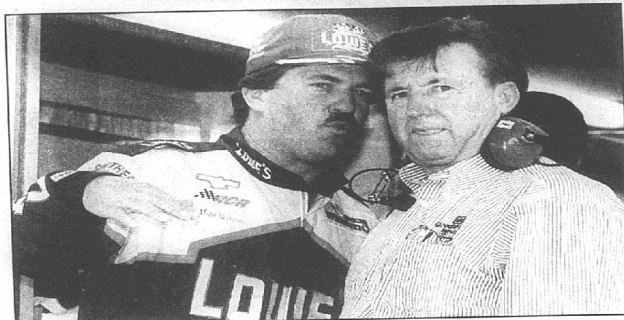

When: Sunday, Sept. 19
Defending champion: Jeff Gordon
Event qualifying record: Ken Schrader, Chevrolet, 129.182 mph, Sept. 12, 1997

Race record: Jeff Gordon, Chevrolet, 112.078 mph, Aug. 30, 1998
Notable: Gordon has won both the races since

New Hampshire got a second date in 1997. Only Gordon, with three wins, and Jeff Burton, with two, have won more than once here.

PROFILE

Mike Skinner

Mike Skinner, left, and car owner Richard Childress are looking for their first win together.

By Monte Dutton
NASCAR This Week

Mike Skinner was Winston Cup rookie of the year in 1997. He has won four poles. He has won exhibition races. But still he awaits his first honest-to-gosh, points-awarding victory.

Richard Childress made Skinner his choice to go truck racing when NASCAR began a series for pickups in 1995, and over the next two years Skinner won 16 races and a championship.

When Childress decided that Dale Earnhardt needed a Winston Cup teammate, Skinner was the obvious choice.

AGE: 42
HOMETOWN: Born in Ontario, Calif., raised in Susanville, Calif., lives in Sophia, N.C.
MARITAL STATUS: Divorced

CHILDREN: Jamie (21), Dustin (14)
CAR: No. 31 Lowe's Chevrolet Monte Carlo, owned by Richard Childress

RECORD: 101 starts, 4 poles, 0 wins, 8 top-5 finishes, 22 top-10s, more than $4 million in career earnings
FIRSTS: Start (April 27, 1986, at Martinsville), pole (Feb. 9, 1997, at Daytona), win (none)
YOU WON THE POLE AT RICHMOND. HOW DOES IT FEEL WHEN YOU KNOW YOU HAVE A FAST

CAR AND YOU'RE WAITING IN LINE TO QUALIFY?
"The wait is always tough. You never know who's going to pull out a good lap. ... I really didn't the best lap I could run anyway. I do that every week and then just let the cards fall where they may."

IS IT FRUSTRATING NOT TO HAVE GOTTEN THAT FIRST VICTORY? "We've had some great runs. It's terrible to run so good and finish so bad. Hopefully we can change our momentum a little bit. ... Last year we were a real good second-half team. We just haven't proven that so far yet. We'd like to do that and get back in the top 10 in the points and finish and help Chevrolet with the (manufacturer's) points championship. We want to put Chevrolet in the victory lane. I need to help them. They've helped me a lot, and I need to contribute a little back."

YOU'VE LED A LOT OF LAPS AT RICHMOND. COULD THIS BE THE PLACE FOR YOUR FIRST VICTORY? "Next year when this race is sponsored by Chevrolet, being a Chevrolet driver, it'd be pretty awesome to win the first Craftsman Truck Series. I've won a couple of Chevy races in the Craftsman Truck Series. I'd like to step it on up and win one over here."

Your Turn

Letters From Our Readers

Dear NASCAR This Week,
At the Busch race at Michigan Speedway, there were 19 Winston Cup drivers who made the field. I think if the Winston Cup drivers want to run in the Busch race, that is OK. But they knock a lot of young drivers out who need to race for experience, and they also mess up the points system for the Busch regulars.

If the Winston Cup guys run the Busch race, they should be disqualified from the next scheduled Winston Cup race. That would let them decide if they want to run Busch or Winston Cup.

Thanks for your remarks.

Dear NASCAR This Week,
I'd like to know what happened to Dan Marino's No. 13. And how long did his car race?

Jerry Kelly
Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Marino, a spokesman for sponsor FirstPlus Financial, bowed out of the sport when the sponsor did. The car competed in the Winston Cup Series for one year.

Dear NASCAR This Week,
Shame on Robert Yates Racing. For what it is worth, my husband and I are going to stand behind Kenny (Irwin). We only hope some other car owner will use the opportunity to get Kenny on his team.

Mr. & Mrs. Hal Mathison
Anderson, Ind.

We are sure Kenny appreciates your feelings. He will almost surely be driving in another Winston Cup car next year, most likely for Felix Sabates.

Trackside Trivia

- Who was the Canadian rookie who won a race at Martinsville in 1974?
- What is the maximum number of points a driver can earn for winning a Winston Cup race?

ANSWERS

1. Earl Ross; 2. 185 (175 for leading and 10 for leading the most laps).

Who's Hot... Who's Not

■ HOT: Tony Stewart moved up to fourth in the standings with eight top-10s in his last nine races.

■ NOT: Richmond problems caused Jeff Gordon and Mark Martin to take big hits in the season standings.

Churchich gives advice to parents, schoolchildren

By Curtiss A. Hartley
Staff writer

With the start of the new school year, Bob Churchich, Madison County sheriff, wants to help parents keep young drivers safe not only while they are in school, but also on their way to school.

"It is vital for parents to teach their children proper procedures when walking to and from school," Churchich said.

"One of the most common causes of pedestrian-related injury or death is a child's unexpected entry into traffic," he said. "If parents teach their children at an early age the proper measures to take when walking, they will be much more inclined to be responsible pedestrians when they are not accompanied by an adult."

Churchich suggested that parents map out a safe walking route for children to follow between school and home. He also offered several measures parents should teach their children to keep them safe while walking.

- Look left, right, left before crossing the street.
- Walk facing traffic. This will enable drivers to see pedestrians more clearly.
- Dress in colorful clothing.
- Always stay on the sidewalk and use crosswalk if available.
- Walk with a friend, if possible.

• Before crossing the street, make eye contact with the driver, to be sure the driver is aware of your presence.

• Do not listen to radios or CD players when walking.

A statement from the sheriff's office indicated that in the U.S. over 20 million students ride buses to and from school and millions who walk.

"The most recent statistics provided by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration indicate that over 25,000 school age pedestrians are injured by motor vehicles every year," the statement read. "Of these, more than 600 are killed."

Churchich said he offered these reminders to help relieve the extra stress parents feel at this time of year.

'Kiddie tax' has grown-up consequences

Do you think you are paying too many taxes on your investment earnings?

If so, you might be tempted to seek a solution. And when you look around, you might just see your children.

But is it a good idea to move some of your investment income to your children's names? Before you take such a step, you'd better brush up on the rules of the "kiddie tax."

The kiddie tax permits children under 14 to receive $700 in investment income, from interest, dividends or capital gains free of tax. (The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 allows for periodic increases in this income cap.) The next $700 is taxed at the child's rate, typically 15 percent for income and short-term capital gains and 10 percent for long-term capital gains.

After your child receives $1,400 in investment income, the rest of the earnings will be taxed on your child at your rate, which can be as high as 39.6 percent. Consequently, you cannot gain significant tax advantages by shifting a large amount of your investment dollars to your child's name.

Furthermore, after your child turns 18 or 21 - the actual age depends on where you live - you will lose control of the money you gave away because once an asset is gifted to a minor, it can't be taken back. While you might have intended that money for college, your son or daughter may decide to take a long motorcycle trip around Europe.

In addition, by saving money in your children's names, you could be jeopardizing their ability to receive financial aid. Colleges and universities that receive any federal money are typically required to ask children to contribute 35 percent of their assets for college expenses, compared to less than 6 percent for parents.

Are there any potential benefits to shifting financial assets into your children's names? There may be, depending on your individual situation.

For example, if your estate is large enough, $650,000 in 1999 rising to $1 million over the next several years to incur estate taxes, then you may be able to reduce your estate tax liability and help your future heirs by giving away some assets to your children while you are alive.

You and your spouse can each make annual tax-free gifts of up to $10,000 to any number of people you choose. Starting in 1999, this yearly gift-tax exclusion will be adjusted for inflation.

If you give an actual security, such as a stock, to your child, then he or she will be responsible for any capital gains taxes. If you sell the security while it's in your name so that you can give cash, you will most likely want to increase your federal and state tax quarterly estimates so you won't incur underpayment penalties.

There are many issues involved with the concept of gifting assets and shifting investment income to your children. So, before you take action, you'll want to make one important call to your tax adviser.

Jeff Prosser is an investment professional in the Granite City office of St. Louis-based Edward Jones.

Practice Makes Perfect

Ever wonder how firefighters know just what to do at the scene of a serious accident? It isn't all instinct. Training is a vital part of keeping these emergency rescue personnel prepared as dozens of firefighters learned over the weekend during a session held at Fireman's Hall in Collinsville. Firefighters got to hone their rescue techniques and try out new equipment on a handful of wrecked cars - minus the victims.

Edwardsville firefighter Chris Handshy removes the windshield from a car.

Venice firefighter Greg Katana uses a hydraulic cutter to remove part of a car as Collinsville Fire Captain / University of Illinois instructor Duane Bales looks Edwardsville firefighters from left Chris Handshy, Rich Mersinger, Sarah Howell, and Dan Kruschik work together as a team gaining practice with a piece of new equipment.

Glen Carbon firefighter Dave Budwell practices using a hydraulic ram to spread part of a car.

Members of the class watch as Bales uses a saw to expose part of a school bus, to show students the complications involved with a school bus rescue.

Students practice using various pieces of rescue equipment to gain entry into vehicles.

Say Goodbye To Starvation Diets Forever Amazing Fat Fighting Pill Ends Hunger- Guarantees Super Fast Weight Loss!

U. S. Patent reveals weight loss of as much as 28 lbs. in 4 weeks and 48 lbs. in 8 weeks.

Las Vegas, NV - There now exists an all natural, bio-active weight-loss compound so powerful, so effective, so relentless in its awesome attack on bulging fatty deposits that it has virtually eliminated the need to diet.

News of this super pill from Asia is sweeping the country. The product is called FatStopper 2000 and it's dynamic!

In fact, thousands of people are now trying FatStopper 2000 and losing weight faster than ever before! People throughout the country are reporting incredible weight losses.

EXCESS CALORIES ARE FLUSHED RIGHT OUT OF YOUR BODY!

FatStopper 2000 ingredients were developed in Asia by medical researchers. The product contains no drugs whatsoever. It's ingredients are derived from a certain plant that grows primarily in Southern Asia.

The technical name is Amorphophallus Konjac which comes from the Konjac root.

Why the Konjac root? For years it was a widely held belief that extracts of the Konjac root had magical properties. When a person ate a small amount of this unique plant extract they would miraculously lose weight!

Researchers investigated this phenomenon and discovered, through sophisticated testing, that the plant extract did indeed cause the human body to bring about rapid weight-loss.

Actually the way it works is truly extraordinary.

Shortly after taking small portions of the plant extract it dissolves into a completely natural gel which surrounds excess figure destroying calories and prevents them from forming body fat.

This action actually alters the time contact is made with the intestinal membrane! In addition and more importantly this remarkable plant gives you a natural feeling of fullness so you're not hungry while your excess weight comes tumbling off.

The research team was so impressed with the plant extract's abilities that they produced an amazing weight-loss pill which uses the key ingredients of this plant extract.

But what's even more impressive, the FatStopper 2000 pill actually surpasses the incredible powers of this plant extract because the FatStopper 2000 ingredients are so highly concentrated.

In fact, the FatStopper 2000 ingredient is so effective at producing massive weight-loss in record time that it was even awarded a patent for weight loss #3,973,008 by the United States Patent Office.

The clinical studies of both men and women revealed in this patent showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.5 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

The FatStopper 2000 ingredient was awarded patents in other countries as well, including Japan, France, Germany and the United Kingdom.

Another U.S. Patent #3,856,945 was awarded to this incredible product for its added ability to reduce harmful cholesterol levels.

As Japanese medical doctor Mutsuhiko Kuroki explains: when Amorphophallus Konjac enters the small intestines it "Blocks cholesterol absorption - reduces the amount of fat absorbed - prevents a sudden increase in blood glucose levels and normalizes the body's cholesterol level".

Clinical studies on Amorphophallus Konjac have been conducted in some of the world's leading medical schools and Universities. The results of a number of scientific studies on this remarkable ingredient have already been published worldwide in major medical journals.

EAT ALL YOUR FAVORITE FOODS AND STILL LOSE WEIGHT (PILL DOES ALL THE WORK)

By now it should be obvious the FatStopper 2000 is no ordinary diet pill. Unlike other diet programs, once you've taken FatStopper 2000 there is really nothing else to do. You'll marvel at the way FatStopper 2000 literally reverses years of overeating.

You need only follow the simple instructions. That's it! You can continue to enjoy all those foods you love to eat. FatStopper 2000 makes it easy for you to simply not allow your body to consume and absorb excess calories. Period!

With FatStopper 2000 you can eat all of your favorite foods but because you will experience a natural feeling of fullness you will of course eat less, not feel hungry and thereby lose weight.

Each day you'll notice absolute visible results as your unwanted pounds of fat, flab and cellulite completely disappear.

There is even a low fat, low calorie diet that comes with the FatStopper 2000 pills that together make up the entire program for those who want to eat healthier and lose weight faster. The key, as everyone knows, is not feeling hungry while the excess pounds and inches disappear.

However, a word of caution is in order. Because FatStopper 2000 is so effective at removing years of ugly fatty deposits and because FatStopper 2000 has absolutely no side effects, there is a tendency for some people to over do it. Do not allow yourself to become too thin.

Without changing the way they eat, and by simply adding the FatStopper 2000 ingredient to their normal meals, clinical studies of both men and women revealed in U. S. Patent #3,973,008 showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.50 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

"I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks!"

"I cannot stand dieting. To me, giving up the foods I love to eat could be worse than being fat. FatStopper 2000 was a real lifesaver! I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks and never felt like I was on a diet. I've never looked or felt better. I know I am much healthier, too! My friends are all green with envy."

-Tanna D., San Diego, CA

Results not typical. Results will vary.

If you start to lose weight too rapidly, limit your pill intake, or even skip a day or two. Have a goal in mind and try not to go beyond it.

Also, before starting this or any weight loss program you should check with your physician to determine that you are in normal health! If you exercise that's great. If you don't, remember that simple walking or moderate exercise such as light aerobics will not only speed up your metabolism but will help tighten and tone muscles and skin as your excess weight and inches begin to disappear.

COMPANY OFFERS EXTRAORDINARY GUARANTEE!

Swiss Labs 2000, Inc. is the only company in the United States authorized to sell FatStopper 2000. They have examined the clinical proof conducted on the FatStopper 2000 product thoroughly and are convinced that with the FatStopper 2000 program you can achieve the body of your dreams.

They don't care if you've tried to lose weight before and failed. They have documented the results of skeptical people who now swear by FatStopper 2000. Swiss Labs 2000 means it when they say you can lose a maximum amount of fat in record time.

In fact, as proof that they believe the FatStopper 2000 program is everything they say it is they offer an extraordinary guarantee, one they wouldn't dare make if they had even a single doubt!

It's apple picking time once again

Eckert's Orchards announces 3 varieties of apples are ready for picking

By Larry Ingram
Staff writer

After the weather has cooled down, apple picking may be just the thing for an outdoor adventure with the family.

Many families will pack up the car with the kids, neighbors, family and friends and come out to enjoy a great tradition — apple picking!

The Metro East area has some well-known spots for selecting bushels of your favorite varieties of apples.

Eckert's Orchards Inc. has Jonathan, Golden Delicious and Red Delicious apples ready for picking.

All three of the Eckert's apple farms in Belleville, Grafton and Millstadt, opened Aug. 28.

"Every fall we look forward to having families come to our orchards to pick apples straight from the tree," said Eckert's Marketing Director Jane Eckert. "We know that families come just as much for the fun of picking as the apples themselves."

All three of the Eckert's farms offer wagon rides to the orchard to go apple picking.

Eckert's Orchards also offer country music and a barbecue every weekend in September and October.

"You can't find this much fun in the city," Eckert said.

Eckert says the weather has been good for the apple crop this year. "We have a plentiful harvest," he said.

The fuji and Granny Smith varieties will be ready for picking at Eckert's Orchards near the middle of October.

Schlueter's Orchard also has many apple varieties ready for picking.

"We have empire, similar to Jonathan red, and golden delicious, Paula red, Ozark gold," said Schlueter's Orchard Manager Brian Schlueter. "We will also have red and yellow delicious in a few days."

Schlueter is the third generation of Schlueters to work at the family-owned apple orchard. It is his first year managing the orchard farm.

Schlueter said the orchard will also have a festival day the first weekend in October.

"It will include a petting zoo, apple butter making, pony rides and wagon rides to the orchard," Schlueter said.

Schlueter's Orchard is located east on Schlueter-Germain Road, about 2 1/2 miles south of Belleville.

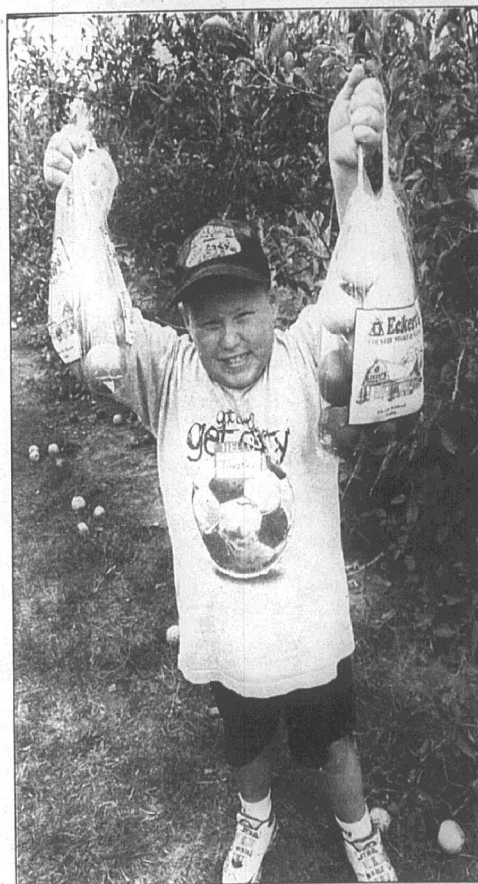

Mills Apple Farm is located east of Marine.

Mills started school tours of the apple farm Tuesday.

"The children go out on the wagon to the apple orchard," said Mills Apple Farm co-owner Shirley Mills. "Then my husband, Jerry, talks to them about apples and then they pick a basket of apples."

"Right now we are picking Jonathan and Ozark gold," Mills said. Red and golden delicious will be ready for picking at Mills Apple Farm in about a week.

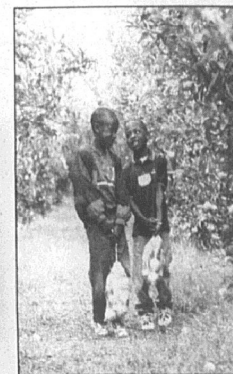

Mills Apple Farm is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. It is located 3 miles east of Marine on Pocahontas Road.

Collinsville's 16th Italian Fest opens Friday night

Annual Main Street festival offers food, music, bocce ball, and Saturday evening parade

By Val McDowell
Staff writer

The conditions Friday and Saturday will be perfect for the 16th annual Italian Fest in downtown Collinsville.

The National Weather Service indicates the skies will be partly sunny with light winds and temperatures in the 70s.

Festival organizers are prepared for a large crowd for the event, which runs from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., both Friday and Saturday.

Most of Main Street will be closed as festivalgoers gather throughout the day to enjoy a wide variety of foods and activities.

Unit 10 schools are closed as well, but Tom Fegley, superintendent, said the closings are because of a teachers in service day.

Getting to the fair will not be a problem, Jo Ann Prusa, one of two general chairmen for this year's festival, said.

"There's a free shuttle bus supplied by Madison County Transit that runs from North Junior High School to downtown about every fifteen minutes," she said.

Prusa said the committees are on top of things.

"Things are going great. We're looking forward to great weather and hoping for a great Fest," she said.

Wednesday night, fair organizers marked the streets for vendor set-ups, and tonight, tent and electrical provisions for vendors will be completed.

Opening ceremonies, featuring the Collinsville High School Choir begin at 10:45 a.m., Friday.

Saturday's agenda sprints off with a 5K run for the athlete in everyone.

Other highlights of this weekend's events include entertainment by Sh-Boom; a Patsy Cline like performance by Lavern Oatman, a Unit 10 grade school teacher, and the traditional Grape Stomp.

tures of this weekend's party. Plenty of souvenirs will be available for purchase. A 100-unit parade is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m., Saturday at Main and Clay. The parade will pay tribute to the 20th century.

It's estimated that over 150,000 people attended last year's Italian Fest.

'Outside Providence', a kinder Farrelly Bros. film

'Mary' scribe's new coming-of-age film doesn't completely steer clear of gross-out humor

Amy Smart and Shawn Hatosy in a scene from the Miramax Films release, "Outside Providence."

From Richard Linklater's "Dazed and Confused" to the Watergate comedy "Dick," a new film genre has been born: the 1970s coming-of-age story. Here are the basics: pot humor, pre-AIDS sex, post-Vietnam politics and a marathon of radio songs - a tease for that most timeless of commodities, the soundtrack album.

But each '70s film offers a different take. In "Dick," Andrew Fleming imagined two girls bringing down the president. In "Dazed and Confused," Linklater's suburbanites agonized over lost ideals. The teen-agers in "Outside Providence," the new film from the Farrelly brothers, are too stoned to know what ideals are.

Given how grownups behaved in "Dumb and Dumber" and "There's Something About Mary," just imagine what the Farrellys do with boys. One slurps up a string of spaghetti and pulls the other end out his nose. Kids aim darts into a picture of David Cassidy, and into a real kid's forehead. There's some vomit, some masturbation, some nicknames ("Drugs" Delaney is the most printable) and some typically dope-y philosophy. "If he gave you his word," one friend says admiringly of Drugs, "there was a 50-50 chance he'd come through."

But "Outside Providence" is a relatively serious film, with the essential sweetness that made "Something About Mary" the most innocent of romantic comedies, sticky hair gel and all. Although written by the Farrellys, it's directed by Michael Corrente, whose previous movies include the dramas "American Buffalo" and "Federal Hill."

Set indeed "outside Providence," in Pawtucket, R.I., the new film is based on Highway rivalry

Cards vs. Cubs trivia

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

If the Yankees historically are the Rolls Royce franchise of baseball, the Cardinals have to be in the luxury car category.

The Cubs, on the other hand, are the chicken truck up on blocks in the neighbor's yard.

The St. Louis National League Baseball Club has towered over Chicago's since the 1920s, when Branch Rickey's minor league system started feeding a steady stream of stars to the big league squad.

Meanwhile, the Cubbies have played poorly most of the years since World War II ended. The last time the Cubs appeared in a World Series game was 1945. Their most recent World Series championship came in 1908. Harry Caray lived his entire life without seeing the Cubs win the World Series.

I bring up these nuggets because a new book, "The 1-55 Series, Cubs vs. Cardinals," allows players, coaches, broadcasters and fans to give first-hand accounts of games and incidents between the teams over the years. It is a terrific work compiled by Chicago fan George Castle and St. Louis fan Jim Rygelski, who is a managing editor with the Suburban Journals.

The book is a fun read, and I'm not saying that merely because a couple stories I contributed have been included in its pages. In it, you get to hear from a wide variety of St. Louis and Chicago baseball lovers about games played over the years.

It also includes a large amount of trivia, including the teams' yearly records against each other and which athletes have played for both clubs during their careers. You can find it in bookstores around town.

For this week's trivia quiz,

Trivia

the questions are on the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs, with some of the information pulled from "The I-55 Series, Cubs vs. Cardinals." The teams will end this season Oct. 1 to 3 playing each other at Busch Stadium.

1. How many World Series titles have the Cardinals and the Cubs each won over the years?
 2. Which Cub threw a no-hitter against the Cards in 1960?
 3. Who was the last Redbird to lead the league in runs batted in?
 4. Who was the last Cub to win a Cy Young Award?
 5. Who did the Cubs trade to the White Sox to get Sammy Sosa?
 6. Mark McGwire broke the single-season home run record of Roger Maris last year against which pitcher?
 7. What future Hall of Famer did the Cardinals get from the Cubs in a deal involving pitcher Ernie Broglio?
 8. What superstar did the Cardinals obtain in a deal that sent Ken Reitz and Leon Durham to the Cubs in 1980?
 9. Did Lee Smith have more saves in a season as a Cub or as a Cardinal?
 10. What did Whitey Herzog say should be done to Wrigley Field?
- ANSWERS:
1. The Cards have won nine - 1926, 1931, 1934, 1942, 1944, 1946, 1964, 1967 and 1982.
 - The Cubs have won two - 1907 and 1908.
 - Don Cardwell, who was later traded to St. Louis.
 - Joe Torre, with 137 in 1971.
 - Greg Maddux, in 1992. How they let this guy go is a mystery.
 - George Bell.
 - Steve Trachsel of the Cubs.
 - Lou Brock.
 - Closer Bruce Sutter.
 - As a Card, with 47 in 1991. His best for Chicago was 36.
 - He said it should be blown up, in reference to it being a bandbox ballpark.

'Outside Providence'

brother Peter Farrelly's autobiographical novel. It features Tim and Jackie Dunphy (Shawn Hatosy and Tommy Bone), slowwitted sons of a refrigerator repairman, played to Archie Bunker perfection by Alec Baldwin.

It's a shouting, all-boys household - the mother died long ago - and wisdom is passed on from the father's ongoing card game.

In "Dumb and Dumber" tradition, Tim gets stoned and crashes the family car into a parked vehicle, a parked police vehicle.

Dad packs him off to an ultra-strict boarding school where even swearing gets you stuck with extra work duty. Tim will rake a lot of leaves in his spare time.

But Tim gradually finds his way among the rich kids, and most of this movie is pretty good boarding school humor: authorities are razed, drugs smuggled, beer guzzled.

And like "Something About Mary," the story is brightened by the leading man's love for a kind and beautiful blonde, played by the nicely named Amy Smart.

In the Farrellys' hopeful world, a good heart (as opposed to money, or a mind) is what you need to get the girl.

It's unlikely "Outside Providence" will catch on in the same way as "Something About Mary" or "Dumb and Dumber." It's never that funny, or that shocking. But it's also never condescending or mean, and when the Farrellys have a point to make they know just the right language.

"It isn't easy being Ozzie," the elder Dunphy reminds his sons, "when you ain't got a Harriet."

A Miramax Films release, "Outside Providence" was produced by the Farrellys, Corrente and Randy Finch. The film is rated R, and the running time is 95 minutes. -Associated Press

'Stigmata': thought provoking, but possibly offending

A safe bet: The Roman Catholic Church will not like "Stigmata." Not by a long shot. That's understandable. The movie questions the very existence of the church's existence, however, this thought-provoking, litate horror film - an odd mix of religious iconography and technomagicery against the backdrop of poor Pittsburgh - is worth a look, even if you talk away a bit offended by the viscera and blasphemy it depicts.

With echoes of "The Seventh Sign" and a bit of "The Exorcist," "Stigmata" follows a beautiful young hairdresser, Frankie Paige, through an extraordinary sequence of events. Throught a rosary own, she is led to a Brazilian priest (Donner) who died the verge of uncovering information that could shake the Vatican to its foundations.

Soon after, Frankie - played by Patricia Arquette as one part ingenue, two parts street-savvy twentysomething - is stricken in her bathtub, in a scene that blends trauma, religion and erotic energy in a truly unsettling way.

Rushed to the hospital, Frankie is found to have puncture wounds that go all the way through her wrists - just like Christ's crucifixion. The doctors think she tried to kill herself. Ridiculous, she says: "I love being me. Ask anyone." After another attack on a subway leaves her with phantom whip marks (and a diagnosis of possible epilepsy), Father Andrew Kiernan, a Vatican paranormal-events investigator who's torn between his science and his faith, is dispatched from Rome to investigate. Father Andrew (Gabriel Byrne, in a muted, deliberate performance) at first, it can't be stigmata; he tells Frankie, because she's an atheist and stigmata only strikes the deeply faithful.

But then, after he witnesses more attacks and sees her scrawling on walls in Aramaic, the language of Galilee in Jesus' time, he begins to believe. Meanwhile, his superiors back in Rome, slowly realizing the importance of what's happening to Frankie, begin to get involved in various questionable ways.

techniques with MTV-style cutting and oblique angles. It works well because it's done sparingly and for contrast, not as a gimmick to carry the film. Especially interesting is the decision to vary lighting, contrast and filters within scenes, which adds to the sense of unease.

Though slow at times, "Stigmata" ultimately succeeds in its determination to be interesting and to explore the meaning of Frankie's injuries. And it really gets going at the end. "The real miracle is that anybody believes anything," Father Andrew laments. But despite its standoffishness about the Vatican, "Stigmata" is indeed a film about belief - and about the gray area that lies between religious faith and scientific truth.

"Stigmata," an MGM release, is directed by Rupert Wainwright and lensed by Jeffrey L. Kimball. It is rated R.

An interesting ancillary player is the city itself, constantly under storm clouds, reflecting Frankie's moods and deeds. In "Stigmata," 1990s service-industry Pittsburgh becomes steel-mill solid once more - filled with belching steam, dark stonework, wet cement and broken glass, showing off its roots as iconic industrial city. Rain-soaked and dreary, it's never looked more compelling. Sobering, "Stigmata" is fascinating. It alternates traditional camerawork and editing
